

I think that it is important for Satellite services to be able to transmit the same local channels that cable companies can. In my instance, I am unable to get cable service, and have to get my TV service from Satellite. If/When they offer my local channels, it would be nice to receive FOX and NBC networks from Washington DC or Baltimore like people who get Comcast can locally, instead of having to rely distant feeds from NY for them.